RAMAPO THE WINNER.

Captures the Suburban at Coney Island in Quick Time.

A LIVELY BRUSH AT THE FINISH.

Sport Puts on a Spurt Which Forces Ramapo and Banquet to Their Speed—Taral, Who Rode the Winner, Goes to Chicago for the American Derby.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Suburban day at the Coney Island Jockey club track set in hot, but before the first race a cool air from the sea made the heat a trifle more bearable, although it was still too warm to move about. The attendance was by no means as great as on Brooklyn handicap day at Gravesend, but still there was an uncomfortable crowd. When the great race was started there was no such crowds of spectators covering the lawn as on the first day of the racing season. In the betting ring, however, it was almost impossible to move about, and when some bookmaker offered a little better odds than another on some favorite animal the rush was irresistible. Hats were lost, coats were torn and tempers spoiled in the struggle, and scarcely anybody escaped the wild rushes.

It was a great day for the Coney Island Jockey club and not less than 25,000 people were present to enjoy the sport. All were made happy, for the favorite had won the Suburban. It was a wise move of Taral's to pay [illegible] for the mount, as it brought him so much more money, for Gideon and Daly are by no means penniless owners.

When the trumpet sounded for the Suburban the horses came out and made the usual parade, with Henry of Navarre leading, followed by Sport, Kinglet, Comanche, Banquet, Ramapo, Charade, King Lee, Don Alonzo, St. Michael and Pickpocket bringing up the rear blinking and blushing. Sir Walter was not in the parade, but followed the others up to the post and got the most applause, as he was the only one who could be singled out.

At quarter before 5 o'clock the twelve horses which were to contend for the valuable prize were all at the post. Several times they broke away and one or two were left. Finally Starter Rowe got down on the ground, and tried his luck from that point. In the second break he sent them all in motion and sent them away to a fine start, with Kinglet leading, followed by Henry of Navarre, Pickpocket, Banquet, Comanche, Ramapo, Sir Walter and the others.

The first quarter was run in twenty-five seconds, and then Kinglet had a length the best of it, while Banquet, with all of his weight, was taken into second place by Sims, only half a length in front of Ramapo, on whom Taral had a gentle pull. Half a length behind Ramapo was Pickpocket but Henry of Navarre, the 3-year-old of which so much was expected, dropped back into fifth place.

The half mile pole was passed by the flying Kinglet in 50 1-2 secs., but he was only three parts of a length in front of Banquet. Banquet was still half a length ahead of the next horse, but it was Pickpocket who had changed places with Ramapo, and looked exceedingly dangerous. Henry of Navarre was still fifth, but could not get any nearer to the flying leaders.

At the three-quarters Banquet passed the pole first in 1 14 1-2, leading Kinglet by a head. Kinglet was then two lengths ahead of Pickpocket, who was still going strongly, he in turn two lengths ahead of Henry of Navarre, Taral having let the 3-year-old pass him at the poles. Sir Walter was running strongly in the sixth place. The time to the mile post was 1 41, and Kinglet, under Griffin's strong urging, had got the first place by a head from Banquet, but it was the last effort of that badly tired horse. Pickpocket was still there, but by only a head over Henry of Navarre, he in turn being a neck in front of Ramapo, Sir Walter still running in the sixth place, and Sport was eighth.

Then came the turn into the stretch, and "Look at Sport" was the cry. [illegible]

The mile and a quarter was made by Ramapo in [illegible].

After the race Taral left at once for Chicago, where he rides Domino in the American Derby today.

TILLMAN HAS HIS SAY.

His Reply to Senator Butler's Harsh Criticisms Against Him.

GREENWOOD, S. C., June 22.—The campaign meeting at Lancaster yesterday was not so lively as had been expected in view of yesterday's performance at Chester. The gubernatorial and congressional candidates had the opening, and were followed by Senator Butler and Governor Tillman. Butler made an excellent speech, defending his course in the senate and expressing regret that he had been compelled to reply to Tillman's charges in the [illegible] he employed at Chester. He declared he would not permit anyone to slander and misrepresent him.

When Governor Tillman was called he was received with much cheering. He said that at Chester he had not opened his mouth in reply to the indignities heaped on him by General Butler, which were fouler and blacker than had been made against any man.

Young Schervard, who was out in the crowd, cried out: "You took them!"

Several hundred men at once sprang to their feet in anticipation of a row, and Governor Tillman shouted back in reply: "Yes, I'll tell you, you cowardly hound, why I took them, and I'll meet you whenever you want to. I took them because I, as governor of the state, could not afford to create a row at a public gathering and have our people murder each other like dogs."

Schervard answered, but his reply could not be heard. The men around the stand were all in commotion and yelling for Tillman, while the women in the audience began to run away. Tillman and Butler called to the ladies to come back as the trouble was over, and they did so. Governor Tillman waved his hands to the crowd to sit down, and then cried out: "A few people around here can have their tails cut off if they want to or both." Continuing, he said:

"General Butler pretends that I had made an imputation on his character. The truth was that at Rock Hill I said that the [illegible] men had been hauled there by some one to hurrah for him, and I asked if they had been sent there by a corrupt fund and if he felt aggrieved as an old neighbor of mine in Edgefield, could not he have come to me and said: 'Do you mean to say that I am responsible for this?' That is the way he should have done if he had been a gentleman, but he did not do this. He seemed to be glad for an excuse to play the role of a bulldozer. If men over in Edgefield insult each other there is generally a fight or a funeral afterwards.

"At Yorkville General Butler spoke of me, and I then exposed his Coxey business, and what is more I expect to keep it to his back at every meeting as a mustard plaster until I get some kind of an explanation." Turning to General Butler he said, "Henceforth I shall call him Coxey Butler." General Butler laughingly replied: "That's all right. I don't care."

Two or three times there was imminent danger of a row, but fortunately the affair passed off without actual violence.

A New Floating Palace.

NEW YORK, June 22.—About 1,000 ladies and gentlemen were given a treat yesterday by the management of the Fall River line. This was an excursion up the Hudson and then to Scotland lightship on the new steamer Priscilla. Everyone on board, particularly the ladies, were loud in their praises of the furnishing and decorations. The latter are all in renaissance style. The staterooms are marvels of comfort and luxury. In a word, the vessel possesses all the improvements and advantages of a first-class hotel. The Priscilla cost $1,500,000 and is without doubt the finest paddle steamer afloat. She will go into commission at once, her first regular run being from this city to Fall River on Monday next.

The Alabama Mine Horror.

BIRMINGHAM, June 22.—Later information from Lewisburg, the scene of Wednesday's mine disaster, where a hundred men were imprisoned in a burning mine, and four taken out dead, show that fifty of those rescued were asphyxiated and are now prostrated. Many are in a critical condition and a number of deaths are expected. Two men are still missing and are supposed to be dead. The fire is still raging. An official investigation shows that the fire was not of incendiary origin, as reported.

[illegible] with a Stairway.

[illegible], June 22.—A stairway in the [illegible] building fell, throwing six workmen to the basement and burying them in the debris. The injured are [illegible]. [illegible] and Boyle will die.

Dr. Wekerle's Triumph.

BUDA PESTH, June 22.—The house of magnates has passed the civil marriage bill by a majority of three. The bill provides for compulsory civil marriages, which will alone be recognized by the law. Provision is also made for the legal dissolution of marriage.

A Fabulous Find of Gold.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 22.—A strike of fabulous richness has been made in the [illegible] mine. The new find consists of an eight inch streak of decomposed quartz and talc, which averages sixty ounces of gold to the ton.

Everybody Likes

to be called handsome, especially the young ladies. But that is simply impossible as long as their face is covered with blotches and spots. But well, there is no need of this; one or two bottles of sulphur bitters will remove all such disfigurations, and make your face fair and rosy.—[illegible], Elmira.

California's Republican Ticket.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 22.—With the nomination for governor safely out of the way the Republican state convention proceeded with the nomination of the rest of the state ticket. They were as follows: Lieutenant governor, J. C. Millard of Los Angeles; justices of the supreme court, [illegible] of San Diego and F. W. Henshaw of Oakland; [illegible], W. C. Van Fleet of San Francisco; controller, E. P. Colgan of Sonoma; treasurer, Levy Rodolfo of San Luis Obispo; attorney general, W. F. Fitzgerald of San Francisco; surveyor general, M. J. Wright.

Experts Disagree.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—The state closed its case in the trial of [illegible] for the murder by poisoning of John Fosse. Expert witnesses were on the stand to prove that Fosse's suffering was caused by poison. The defense put experts on the stand to contradict the state's witnesses, and there were many hypothetical questions. Professor William F. Tonry was put on the stand by the defense to contradict Professor Wilson's analysis of parts of Fosse's body.

Murdered a Sixteen-Year-Old Girl.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Thomas Krain, aged 40 years, of Manayunk, the mill district of this city, shot and almost instantly killed 16-year-old Mamie Quigley, who lives with her father, James Quigley, a laborer, in the same neighborhood. Krain then turned the weapon upon himself and sent a bullet through his brain. He lies in a critical condition at St. Timothy's hospital. The motive for it is yet a mystery.

To Make Examples of Them.

OMAHA, Neb., June 22.—The federal court left yesterday for Fort Sidney to try the 200 Commonwealers confined there for holding up a Union Pacific train at Ogallala last week. It is said some of the leaders against whom strong cases may be established will be made an example of by giving them penitentiary sentences. The others will be tried in bunches of twenty-five and given jail sentences.

Trenton Potters to Resume.

TRENTON, June 22.—The manufacturing potters, whose workmen have been on strike for months against a reduction, will throw open their works on Monday for those who care to go to work, but will make no concession in the wage list, except where it may be demonstrated, after a trial, that men cannot make living wages. Some of the men are disposed to go to work.

To Start Up Immediately.

PITTSBURG, June 22.—The McClure Coke company announces the entire plant will be started up immediately. If the old men, now on strike, care to return they can do so. If not new men will be run in. The men are promised an advance as soon as the selling price of coke is advanced. At present no increase will be allowed. The McClure company employs over 3,000 men.

Ten Years for Incendiarism.

PETERSBURG, W. Va., June 22.—P. P. Farley was convicted and sentenced yesterday to ten years in the penitentiary for incendiarism. Last April the business portion of Emporia was destroyed by fire. The fire started in the dwelling of Farley, who at the time was postmaster of the town. He was arrested and detectives fastened the crime on him.

Corbett Is Reticent.

LONDON, June 22.—In response to a message sent to James J. Corbett, at Sheffield, asking him what he intended to do about the offer of the Auditorium club of New Orleans, of $25,000 for a fight between him and Bob Fitzsimmons, Corbett telegraphs that he will have nothing to say in the matter until his return to the United States.

Homesteaders Ask Increased Wages.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., June 22.—There is a movement for higher wages at the great Homestead steel works. It started with the engineers and "hookers-on." They have asked that the 25 per cent wage reduction which they submitted to in January be restored. Superintendent Schwab said it was impossible to grant the demand.

Thieving Banker Arrested.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—Elmer C. Sattley, cashier of the defunct Kansas City Safe Deposit and Savings bank, was arrested today on four new warrants, charging him with receiving deposits after the bank was in an insolvent condition. [illegible]

RIOTOUS FOREIGNERS.

They Have Created a Reign of Terror at Walston, Pa.

FAMILIES DRIVEN FROM HOME.

English Speaking Miners Forced to Desert Their Abiding Places at the Bidding of the Angry Hungarians and Italians—Troops Ordered to the Scene.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., June 22.—Walston contains about 2,000 foreigners who are in an absolute [illegible]. The mine officials are in town, and the Italians and Hungarians are running things at the mines to suit themselves.

An additional lot of firearms were purchased yesterday, and one hardware merchant could have sold a hundred Winchesters if they had had them. Very few English speaking miners are now in Walston. Those that are there are compelled by the foreigners to stay, as their lives are threatened if they attempt to leave. The Italians claim that they have a Frenchman among them who is an adept at making bombs, and that they have plenty of good ones made.

The foreigners, armed with Winchesters, have picket lines around the town, and will allow none but friends to pass in or out. American born citizens are forced to act as guards to keep everybody out of the place.

The pumpers have been compelled to leave the pumps, and the mines are rapidly flooding with water. John Snyder, mine superintendent at Walston, was compelled to leave, and has been staying in town. He resigned his position yesterday and left for home in Ohio. The people anxiously await the arrival of troops ordered here by the governor.

The foreigners understand that the troops are coming, and the railroad and highways leading from this place into Walston are swarming with hordes of Italians and Hungarians wrought up to the highest pitch of excitement. The greatest fear now is that there will be an attack upon the English speaking miners and their families. They have been driven away from their houses, and fathers and husbands have been separated from their wives and children, and the women and also their little children are running around and calling aloud for protection. Word has just come to town that the more daring of the foreigners want to come to this place and search for the missing English speaking men, and should they come it is feared there will be bad work done.

May Resume Non-Union.

CLEVELAND, June 22.—The Massillon district coal operators held a meeting here to decide on some concerted action in regard to reopening their mines, where the miners are still holding out for a fifteen cent differential. It is stated on good authority that the operators will refuse to pay any differential, and will attempt to resume within a week with non-union labor if the old men fail to accept the terms of the Columbus agreement.

Working Miners Assessed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., June 22.—The miners of the Springfield sub-district endorsed the scale adopted by the miners' conference Sunday and decided that each miner working pay 12½ per cent of his wages toward helping those out of employment. A number of mines have resumed. The effect of resumption of the coal mines caused several large Springfield factories employing hundreds of men, to resume work.

Union Miners Evicted.

STILLMAN, W. Va., June 22.—Fourteen families of union miners were evicted here yesterday, and their places in the mines were taken by sixty Southern negroes. Eleven armed non-union men are now working there, that being the only mine in operation. After the eviction the miners were paid for their gardens and treated to several kegs of beer.

[illegible] from Indian Territory.

SOUTH MCALESTER, I. T., June 22.—Indian Agent Wisdom interviewed eighty-three miners today, and asked them to show cause why they should not be removed as intruders. The majority of the men interviewed will have to leave the nation. There are no hopes of the mines resuming operations soon.

Working Miners Forced to Quit.

[illegible], Ind., June 22.—The miners at [illegible] City resumed work yesterday, but were forced to come out by a delegation of strikers from [illegible]. [illegible] from the officers of the state federation.

Southern Illinois Miners Resume.

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—A large number of miners in southern Illinois resumed work yesterday. [illegible] everywhere.

CLEVELAND'S CHURCH WAR.

Charges of Murder Which Appear to be Founded on Fact.

CLEVELAND, June 22.—Ever since Mrs. Elizabeth Jenicki was found on the street in the Polish settlement on the night of May 26, with her skull crushed, Rev. A. F. Kolaszewski, the excommunicated Polish priest has declared that she was murdered because she revealed to him plots to take his life. Kolaszewski was, three years ago, the priest of St. Stanislaus Catholic church. He made enemies and was obliged by the bishop to give place to Rev. Benedict Rosinski, another young Pole. Since then the parish has been rent with dissension. The Kolaszewski faction have set up an independent parish and have built a church.

The priest has declared under oath, as have also others, that Mrs. Jenicki secured last summer, from one Ladislas Kosucki, a confession that he and others had been hired to kill Kolaszewski. All of those in the plot were sworn to secrecy on penalty of death. A short time after, it is alleged, Kosucki's body was found, charred to a cinder, in the ruins of a polish printing office. Kolaszewski declares that Kosucki was murdered.

Yesterday, through Kolaszewski's efforts two girls, Frances [illegible] and Pauline Witkowski, about 16 years old, testified under oath that on the night of May 26 they saw John Loeski, a member of St. Stanislaus church, kill Mrs. Jenicki. They said that Loeski had threatened to kill them if they revealed what they knew. The police arrested Loeski.

Kelly Arrested as a Vagrant.

LOUISVILLE, June 22.—General Kelly and his right hand man, Colonel Baker, were arrested here yesterday as vagrants, and placed under a bond of $2,500 each. Bond was furnished at once, and the men were released. As a result the general did not speak at National park last night, as advertised, having been advised by his attorney not to do so. Kelly says, however, that he will speak tonight, and Chief of Police Taylor has notified him that if he attempts to do so he will be arrested. The mayor has also notified Borchbeck Bros., the managers of National park, that they would be arrested if they permitted General Kelly to speak at the park.

Great Fire in London.

LONDON, June 22.—Fire broke out in the cabinet making factory of William Angus & Co., on Tabernacle street, Finsbury. The flames, assisted by a fierce wind, spread furiously, and within an hour eight or ten factories were burning. The block in which the Angus factory is located, and which is 1[illegible]0 feet long by 60 feet wide, became a complete furnace. Almost the entire London fire brigade, over fifty engines and 300 men, were in attendance. Altogether twenty walls collapsed and the men had many narrow escapes. Twenty buildings were gutted, and many others damaged by fire and water. The estimated damage is £100,000.

The Sugar Trust Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The sugar trust investigation committee held a brief session yesterday and examined George Ransom, son of Senator Ransom and clerk of the senate committee on commerce, and also Captain A. C. Barnes, messenger of that committee, in regard to their purchases of sugar stock. George Ransom said his father had not known of his purchases, and in fact he was the last person to whom he would have spoken of the transaction, for his father had always told him not to gamble. Captain Barnes also testified to keeping the knowledge of his sugar stock purchases from Senator Ransom.

Determined to Die.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 22.—Adam Bear, of the firm of Bear & Long, coal and lumber dealers of Lititz, aged 40 years, wrote a letter to his wife, who was on a visit to Mount Joy, stating that his body could be found in his warehouse, and then sent a bullet into his head. This shot, which was fired in his office, failed to accomplish his purpose, and he walked over to his warehouse, where he fired three more bullets into his head. He is expected to die at any moment. The revolver used was only a 22 caliber.

Overcome by Mine Gas.

[illegible], Pa., June 22.—A fire that occurred in the [illegible] and a gang of men were put to work to fight the flames. They were overcome by the gas and had to be carried to the surface. Their names were W. M. [illegible], outside foreman; Adam [illegible], William Pugh, Robert Smith and a Polish laborer. All recovered. The fire was extinguished by another force of men.

Fire in a State Prison.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 22.—A fire last night destroyed $40,000 of state property in Auburn prison. How the fire started is unknown. It was first discovered in the second story of the south wing, in which are located the laundry shop, the wood working department and the novelty shop. In half an hour the whole structure, 200 feet by 40 feet, was in a blaze, and was totally destroyed.

SENATORS AT ODDS.

Lively War of Words Between Chandler and Allen.

HARSH CRITICISMS INDULGED IN.

Allen Called Chandler a "Sabeck," and [illegible]—The Senate Votes That the Income Tax Shall Run Until Jan. 1, 1900.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The debate on the income tax was opened yesterday by Senator Hill, of New York, in a masterly three hour speech in opposition to this feature of the bill. It was generally regarded as the ablest speech the New York senator has delivered since he became a member of the senate. Despite the oppressive heat he was listened to with close attention. The sensational feature of the day was the personal attack made upon Mr. Allen, the Nebraska Populist, by Senator Chandler, of New Hampshire. The latter scored Mr. Allen unmercifully for applying the epithet "sabeck" to him on Wednesday, but in the Nebraska Populist he met a foeman worthy of his steel.

Mr. Hill finished his speech at 1:50, after having spoken over three hours. Mr. Higgins (Del.) followed in opposition to the income tax.

A very sensational incident occurred when Mr. Higgins took his seat. Mr. Chandler (N. H.) rose to a question of personal privilege in connection with the passage at arms between Senator Allen and himself on Wednesday. He had, he explained, heard what Mr. Allen had said in his reply to him only in a fragmentary fashion, and had missed entirely the opprobrious epithet, "sabeck," applied by the senator of Nebraska to himself. Mr. Allen, who was in the chamber, moved over near to Mr. Chandler, when the latter began what proved to be his very remarkable speech.

"The senator from Nebraska," Mr. Chandler said, "on yesterday stated that when I charged that his vote had been bargained for I stated what was false, and what he believed I knew to be false when I made it. I did not make any insinuation," said Mr. Chandler. "But what I stated I believed to be true. I charged in effect that he moved to place lumber on the free list under the threat that if it were not so placed he would vote against the bill. The truth of that charge is contained in the Record.

"I simply inquired of the senator whether the bargain had been closed, whether it was complete. I made the inquiry and I don't think he was warranted in becoming indignant and using unparliamentary language. It was distinctly stated by the senator from Maryland (Mr. Gorman) in a carefully prepared speech, that concessions, arrangements, bargains, or anything you choose to call them had been made to secure such a majority and effect the passage of the bill.

"I regret," said Mr. Chandler, deliberately in conclusion, "I have discovered that the early surroundings of the senator before he entered this body were such as not to allow him to observe the common courtesies which all gentlemen regard even in the most heated partisan debate. The senator from Nebraska is to be pitied rather than censured for what he could not help."

A dead silence greeted this remarkable attack. Mr. Allen was pale, but calm, when he rose to reply. "This is the fourth time," he began in a low but steady voice, "that the senator from New Hampshire has seen fit to speak of 'bargains' in connection with my vote. I do not know whether the language is parliamentary. I am not skilled in parliamentary procedure. But I do know it is untrue and ungentlemanly. I think he made the insinuation deliberately, knowing it was false. He has tried to place me in the position of a trafficker of votes. The insinuation is untrue. If I were where I could make it plainer," he added, looking Mr. Chandler in the eye, "I would make it plainer.

"I made a motion a few weeks ago to strike lumber from the dutiable list, as I had a right to do. I have a right to get what I can for my people. I am not bound to the Democratic or the Republican party, but I am an humble representative of a new party. As such I am more or less a skirmisher between the old party lines. I repel the base, dirty insinuations of the senior senator from New Hampshire," he said in conclusion, raising his voice until it rang through the chamber, "and I reiterate and reaffirm with all the energy I possess what I said yesterday."

"What the senator has said," said Mr. Chandler, jumping to his feet, "only emphasizes what I said a moment ago, namely, that he does not comprehend the courtesy that characterizes debate in this body."

The senate sat breathless for fully a minute after Mr. Chandler resumed his seat. Thus closed this sensational episode and the debate on the income tax then proceeded. [illegible]

Only three votes were taken, one on Mr. Aldrich's motion to limit the operation of the tax to Jan. 1, [illegible], another by Mr. Peffer, to establish a graduated income tax. Both were defeated. The finance committee amendment fixing the time limit during which the tax was to run at Jan. 1, 1900, was agreed to by a vote of [illegible].

up to the fifth with a gallery and a balcony, and will have a seating capacity of about 3,000. Exits will be numerous and the material used—steel, stone and brick—will render the building absolutely fireproof.

There are to be two turreted corners on the top of the building in front. The Salvation Army flag will fly from the turret at the west corner and the American flag from the east turret. There will be a central tower surmounted by the insignia of the army—the "Blood and Fire" badge. This will be illuminated by electricity at night. Over all will be perched the American eagle.

The cost of the new building will be about $80,000 and the land about $60,000, bringing the total up to $140,000, exclusive of furnishing. The new headquarters will be dedicated next fall, when General Booth, commander in chief, will visit this country.

The United States division of the Salvation Army has 536 corps or societies and 1,093 officers. There are also 11 slum posts, five rescue homes and three food and shelter depots. The War Cry, official paper of the army, has a combined circulation of 90,000. One edition is published in New York and a second on the Pacific coast, and Swedish and German editions are also printed in New York city.

HARRISON AT THE BAR.

His Barber Has Wrought a Change in the Ex-President's Appearance.

An interesting scene occurred in the United States circuit courtroom at Chicago the other day when ex-President Benjamin Harrison raised his right hand and took the oath of attorneys who practice in the court. The oath was administered to Mr. Harrison by Oliver T. Morton, clerk of the court and son of Indiana's famous war governor. On the bench sat Judge William A. Woods of Indianapolis, who was appointed a judge of the Seventh circuit by the man who was taking the oath. At Mr. Harrison's elbow stood his partner, W. H. H. Miller, who was attorney general of the United States during the last administration, and near him stood John M. Butler, an attorney who is considered the first lawyer of Indiana, and who was the late Senator McDonald's partner. He is also high in the councils of the Republican party in Indiana, and with General Harrison and Mr. Miller represented W. R. McKeen, president of the Vandalia road, who was the defendant in error in the case which brought the distinguished party from Indianapolis.

The ex-president retains his portly physique, but wears his beard closely trimmed to a point on the chin, after the style affected by the late James G. Blaine. The revised and abbreviated beard makes quite a change in his appearance.

Made His Eyes Turn Blue.

A dark eyed man was kept for 15 years in an unlighted dungeon in Salzburg, Austria. During that time he never saw a human face. When he came forth into daylight, it was noticed that his black eyes had become blue.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I live in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established, still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did to be a bigger man in the world. I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what to do. I wanted to tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess.

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find none until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to-day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to day, while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted, here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath, and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people, I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history. The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?"

[illegible] or hand, but [illegible] than that was [illegible] I have [illegible] that it could [illegible] be a shower [illegible] falling [illegible] time [illegible] hollow [illegible] portion of the cloud which was dumping its immense load of ice into the salty water veered to the northeast and crossed to the treeless mountains lying over toward Hanford. It was not a hailstorm in the ordinary sense of the word—it was simply an awful precipitation of thousands of tons of ice from the clouds. Some of these lumps were not larger than one's fist, but the majority of them were larger than full sized building bricks, and one which buried itself in the sand near our camp Lurk on the beach was a jagged, three-cornered mass of ice weighing 23 pounds an hour and a half after the storm cloud had passed. As one of the boys afterward remarked, 'It seemed as if the cloud had been frozen solid to a depth of about 6 or 8 inches and then suddenly knocked to pieces and thrown to the earth.' But few of the ice chunks bore the least resemblance to ordinary hailstones. All were of jagged and irregular form, the majority of the pieces containing some foreign substance, such as a ball of earth, wads of [illegible] sand, fish and frog spawn, etc. The head of a dead sunfish was found in one piece and a half dozen or a dozen of the ice slabs gathered up and put into our water jar yielded two live and one dead frog, a mass of kelp or seaweed, three small pebbles, a [illegible] shell and some queer black seeds about the size of buckshot."

IS SHE BEING COERCED?

Suspicion That the Princess Alix Is Not Marrying Her Own Selection.

There is a strong and growing expression of opinion that the Princess Alix was persuaded—some people suggest coerced—into accepting the czarowitz. It is difficult to understand why that idea should get into people's heads now, but it is undoubtedly there, and it will not be easy to dislodge it. The good people of Harrogate, where the princess is still drinking the waters and taking sulphur baths, have not the slightest doubt about it. She was pale and weak, they say, when she came and evidently loaded down with care. If the gossip of the servants' hall and of the fashionable promenade is of any value, she suffered from sleeplessness and often appeared at the breakfast table with her eyes swollen from much weeping. She has greatly improved since she went to Harrogate—physically at any rate. Color has returned to her face, and the doctor's visits are less frequent now. She looks strong enough to take a good long walk, but she does not do so. She is wheeled about the greater part of the day in a bath chair.

It is only fair to mention, however, that the poor princess is hard at work learning Russian and devotes several hours a day to a grammar and dictionary, which of course does not conduce to cheerfulness. Neither is the preliminary study of a great religion, upon which she is also engaged, calculated to improve an invalid's spirits.—London Letter.

The Nonpartisan Trust.

The late Jay Gould always contributed to the campaign funds of both parties and boasted that he was a Republican when the Republicans were in power and a Democrat when the Democrats were in power. And though the Havemeyers are supposed to be Democrats and Cord Meyer, Jr., as we know, was the Democratic candidate for secretary of state last year, and though some of those connected with the trust are Republicans, not one of the stockholders is so obtuse as not to recognize the desirability of laying both parties under obligations, and not one is such a fool as to appear as a partisan. They buy politicians just as they buy raw sugar—a little more delicately perhaps but all in the way of business. And it's so with the other trusts.—Rochester Post-Express.

Centerboards For English Yachts.

It seems not improbable that the vexed question of the superiority of fixed keel or centerboard for racing in English waters may be settled this season. At any rate, it will be thoroughly tested in the 20 rating class, and the results will be watched with much interest. The form of the Dragon is so well known that it will be somewhat easy to judge whether the addition of a centerboard has improved her or the reverse, and as the Thelma, which Mr. Fife has designed for Mr. Walker, is also to have a centerboard another opportunity will be afforded of estimating whether or not this class of boat is superior to the fixed keel, which all English yachtsmen have so long believed in.—London Telegraph.

...guish two different qualities of tone in all of the long row of stops, but my dog made it apparent to me that my ears were not as acute as his. I play for variety upon the organ, notwithstanding its being antiquated, and my dog seems to enjoy this as much as the piano, all except one stop. Whenever I pull that stop out, he rises to his feet suddenly and commences to bark and growl at me in a most vicious manner, sometimes biting at the organ. Now, to my ear that stop makes no difference in the sound of the organ. I have tried hard to detect the distinctive quality which aggravates the dog's nature, but without success. I have tried to fool the old fellow by commencing a tune upon one stop and suddenly pulling out the obnoxious one. He never fails to detect this, although the sound to me is just the same."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1894.

The latest scheme of the Coxeyites is to establish a camp at Onset, across Buzzard's Bay from Gray Gables. The only purpose back of such a camp would be to annoy the Clevelands in their summer home.

The Halliday trial has furnished a striking object lesson in the worthlessness of newspaper illustration. Most of the New York papers have had a new picture of the woman every day since the trial began and each picture, although suggesting some slight resemblance to the others, has been essentially different.

The South Carolina Prohibitionists will not run a State ticket, this year, but will catechise all candidates for the Legislature and give their support to those whose answers are most satisfactory. In this way they hope to at least be able to secure a legislature not distinctly hostile to their theories and there is more political wisdom in taking half a loaf than in insisting on a whole loaf and getting nothing.

McKinley's presidential possibilities all depend upon business conditions in 1896. If the enactment of the Democratic tariff is followed, as all good citizens hope and believe by good times and increased prosperity, McKinley's name will not be heard in the Republican convention. He will be a very back number. If, however, business continues to droop and lag under the new tariff, the Republicans will charge that it is because of the repeal of the McKinley tariff, and this will make the nomination of McKinley a logical necessity.

This paper has, at times, in behalf of what it esteemed to be the good and welfare of the Democratic party, taken strong issue with Senator David B. Hill in his dual relation as politician and statesman. But, to-day, it feels called upon to say that every Democrat who clings to the doctrines and traditions of Democracy, as coming down from the Fathers, finds an answering echo in his heart to the words with which Senator Hill, yesterday, put himself upon record as unalterably opposed to the imposition of the proposed tax upon incomes. His premises were Democratic, his argument was Democratic, his logic was Democratic and his inspiration was Democratic. All praise to him then! What man could do more?.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Dikeman's Festival—A Pleasant Lawn Party—The Band Concert—Landed in the Right Place.

From our regular correspondent.

—Dikeman Hose Company was very successful at its festival, last night, and realized a very neat sum.

—Miss Anna Wilson gave a lawn party, Thursday afternoon, her fourteenth birthday, to a number of her young friends at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Walter S. Wilson, on Scotchtown avenue. An excellent lunch was served and a very pleasant time was had by the young people in games and other amusements.

—The attendance at the band concert, last night, was the largest of the season.

—A sailor, who had lost his sea legs by too much "bilge" water, surprised Officer Van Dermark by tumbling into headquarters, this morning. The officer locked him up.

All In One Breath.

The Rev Andrew Jackson Potter, the gentleman who arose from behind a pulpit in Uvalde, Tex, several years ago, with two big six shooters in his hands, and informed the audience, mostly composed of the toughest of toughs, who had been in the habit of running every minister of the gospel who came there out of town with rotten eggs, or escorting him out to the suburbs on a three cornered pole, that if there was any flop eared, swallow mouthed galoot in that audience who had the audacity to presume that he wore a big enough shirt to put him out of a pulpit to step forth and take the hot medicine, or, on the other hand, to keep his bazoo closed, and also wound up that with the help of God and those two forty fives he held in his hands he proposed to preach to that people that day, has announced himself a candidate for sheriff and tax collector of Tom Green county.—Ozona Courier

Unsuspected Sources of Disease.

Recent investigations have brought out the fact that there are many cases of severe neuralgia caused by abnormal conditions of the nasal passages. In several instances there have been found enlargements of the bony structure or hard lumps of diseased tissue pressing against certain nerves and causing the most excruciating pain. Removal of these has resulted in complete cure, although there have been returns of the growths after the first operation. Persons who habitually suffer from pains in the head should have their conditions carefully diagnosed. Long continued suffering not infrequently brings about protracted and incurable mental and nervous disorders.—New York Ledger

Fencing Little Ones.

Fencing is the latest fad for little girls, whose older sisters have long been experts in the art. Even tiny creatures of 7 or 8 are now taught to put themselves en garde and make their thrusts with delightful recklessness. In fact, the fin de siecle little maid is quite a marvelous product of the times with her riding, fencing, ballet dancing, etc., and it will be curious to see what will be the effect of these isms of the day on her later development.—New York World.

DIED.

OWEN—In this city, suddenly, June 21st, '94, Emily F., wife of Oscar E. Owen, aged forty-nine years.
Funeral notice will appear to-morrow.

LEE—In this city, June 21st, '94, Morris A Lee, aged thirty-eight years, ten months, sixteen days.
Funeral Saturday, from his late residence, No. 131 Wickham avenue, at two o'clock. Friends and relatives are invited to attend the funeral without further notice. Interment in Hillside Cemetery.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

MRS. HALLIDAY'S SENTENCE

TO DIE BY ELECTRICITY DURING THE WEEK BEGINNING AUG. 6TH.

Stolidly Indifferent While Hearing Her Doom—No Answers to the Customary Questions—The First Woman Sentenced to Die by Electricity—Judge Edwards Uncertain as to the Place of Execution.

As was briefly stated in a portion of last night's edition of the Argus, the jury in the Halliday [illegible]

[illegible]

WOULD ANSWER NO QUESTIONS.

District Attorney Hill made the customary motion for sentence. An attempt to swear the prisoner was made by the clerk and the usual questions as to birth, occupation, religious instruction, education, etc., were put but not answered.

At ten o'clock, Judge Edwards put the question, whether there was any legal or other cause why judgment should not be pronounced. Mr. Carpenter had nothing to say and the prisoner sat silent and unmoved.

THE SENTENCE OF DEATH.

The judge then briefly sentenced the prisoner to die by electricity during the week beginning Monday, August 6th, at the place designated by law. The prisoner maintained the same stolid indifference, while the death sentence was being pronounced and was then returned to her cell and a recess was taken until twelve o'clock.

UNCERTAINTY AS TO THE PLACE OF EXECUTION.

As Mrs. Halliday is the first woman sentenced under the electrocution law, the judge is not certain as to the place of execution. Probably it will be Auburn prison, as all women convicts from this Judicial District are sent there, while the men are sent to Dannemora.

WHAT IS THOUGHT OF THE VERDICT.

The populace is pleased with the verdict, but intelligent people are astounded, as it was not expected from the law and evidence. Very few think she will be electrocuted.

Morris A. Lee.

Mr. Morris A. Lee, who sustained serious internal injuries by a fall at his home, about a week ago, died at [illegible] yesterday afternoon, aged [illegible] years, ten months and [illegible] days. Deceased was a well known and popular engineer on the [illegible] and a prominent member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

He was married Oct. 1st, 1879, to [illegible], daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] of [illegible] street, this city. [illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. [illegible]'s kindergarten and primary school closed, this forenoon, with very interesting exercises. The class is composed of twenty-three as interesting little tots as can be found in the city or anywhere else, and it is evident that Mrs. Stewart, by her kindly ways and great patience, has gained the confidence and affection of the children, who, as a result, have made rapid progress.

There was an interesting programme consisting chiefly of songs. Refreshments were served at little tables.

The closing piece was a good bye song, after which the children kissed Mrs. Stewart and her assistant, Miss Jones, "good bye" and trooped out of the school room as happy as older children do when vacation time comes.

The next term will begin in September [illegible] more commodious quarters.

We had nearly forgotten to mention the fact that the class, some time ago, decided to raise money enough to give at least one little city waif an outing in the country, and the result of the effort was $6.20. It was interesting to hear the little folk tell how they earned their money making beds, washing dishes, sweeping, warming milk for baby, undressing themselves, going on errands, picking up things in the rooms, and in various other ways.

THE [illegible] GOES.

[illegible] New Orleans, [illegible] United States navy, who was then stationed at New Orleans. One night an old salt of Murray's command was sitting in the front row of the gallery. When Sir Joseph Porter made his first entrance, he gazed upon him for a moment as if doubting the evidence of his senses, and then muttered to himself sotto voce, "I'm blest if that isn't old Murray."

Rising from his seat and making a sea scrape, he called out, "Good day, your honor." The special officer was going to eject him, but the manager of the house, who had observed him, forbade it and told the officer to let the old fellow enjoy himself to his heart's content so long as he did not become so boisterous as to disturb the performance.

Whenever Sir Joseph came on or went off the stage, the old salt would rise and honor him with a salute, and after the fall of the curtain he proposed and gave three cheers for Admiral Murray. A naval lieutenant who was present subsequently told me that when the old fellow went on board his ship next day he had to be put in irons for refusing to obey an order from his superior officer unless that functionary would follow the example of the gallant captain of the "Pinafore" and say, "If you please."—De Wolf Hopper in New York Herald.

Bathing Suit of 1894.

Though the woman with a well filled purse can indulge in the luxury of a silk bathing costume, the greater number of the fair sex at the shore will frolic with old Neptune in suits of all wool flannel. These may be made very plain or may be trimmed with great taste.

The neatest suits seen in the stores are made with full skirts and have knee tights and full tights to match. Sandals and odd knitted or rubber caps come with these suits, which are made in black, navy, cardinal, maroon, gray and white. Black, white and red worsted braids in different widths are used as trimming, and this garniture can be put on in exceedingly pretty effects. Cuffs and sailor collar of red or white flannel on blue or black suits are very stylish, although some beautiful models are made with box plaited waists, with the skirt, wrists and down turn collar trimmed with two or three rows of narrow white or red worsted braid.

The best suits range in price from $4.50 to $7. These are for ladies, the suits for children costing between $4 and $6.25.—Philadelphia Record.

Lightning Dissipators.

A good many years ago some one advanced the idea that a wire netting spread over the roof of a house and properly anchored in good conducting soil is an effectual bar to injury by lightning. The claim is that there is what is called a state of electrical stress. This is broken by the flash that descends through an electric air column that extends from the clouds to the earth. By the use of copper latticework, with upright points placed upon roofs, the electric current is attracted, carried through the metal conductors and safely conveyed into the earth without doing any injury whatever. It is, however, of the utmost importance that the anchorage be of the proper sort, as upon this depends the safety of the dwelling.—New York Ledger.

Tea and Coffee as Food.

M. Stanislaus Martin states that, as the result of an experiment on three different criminals sentenced to death who accepted the scientific trial in preference to hanging, No. 1, nourished exclusively on tea, lived three years, and then died. He had become almost a skeleton and was in a transparent condition. No. 2, on coffee, died in two years, burned as if an interior fire had calcined him. No. 3 lived on chocolate for eight months and died in a very advanced state of rottenness, as it were, devoured by worms.—London Lancet.

One of the most startling unanticipated replies on record was that of a young lady versed in all present day attainments, who, in reply to an address, "I want a person of some experience in the nursery—do you know much about children?" cheerfully retorted, "Oh, dear, yes, I've dissected a baby."

Every great literary work has been followed by a host of imitations. After the publication of the "Faerie Queen" the press was deluged with fairy stories, as after Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" hundreds of similar works appeared.

When a man becomes indifferent to women, to children and young people, he may know that he is superannuated and has withdrawn from whatsoever is sweetest and purest in human existence.

"ADAMANT" WALL PLASTER!

The New, Cheap Substitute for Common Plaster.

It is very hard and very adhesive; it does away with the warping and shrinkage of doors and casings, and the building is not saturated with water, as it necessarily must be when common plaster is used; it costs originally but little more than lime plaster, and in the end its superior qualities make it immeasurably cheaper; it saves waiting several weeks or months for the building to dry out; it does not crack or fall off, even in the case of leakage; it is applied easily by any good plasterer; it is the only material with which repairing can be done neatly and "to stay."

A Search For Lost Classics.

There is a chance that more lost classics may be discovered, this time in Moscow. When that city was ravaged by the khan of the Crim Tartars in 1570, the library of Ivan the Terrible was hidden away, it is believed, in the vaults of the Kremlin. It has already been a tradition among Russian scholars that this library contained a vast number of Greek and Latin manuscripts, written on parchment, and once the property, as the booksellers would say, of the Byzantine emperors. But the hiding place has never yet been discovered. According to the Moscow Gazette, another and more systematic search is now to be made under the direction of the "illustrious scholar," M. Zabeline.

How to Ruin a Cake.

When you have a cake or bread in the oven, don't slam the oven door nor walk heavily about the kitchen while it is baking. A fine cake will be irretrievably ruined by a slight jar at a certain stage of its baking, and one of the most prolific sources of bad bread is an utter ignorance of how to handle it when it is in the oven.—New York Telegram.

THE COMMON COUNCIL.

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST NIGHT'S REGULAR MEETING.

A Claim for Damages—Want James Street Repaved—The Proposed Mills Avenue Improvement—Again the Wawayanda Matter—A Resignation and Appointment—Cost of Highland Avenue Sewer—Work for the Board of Health—Anticipating Damage Suits.

A regular meeting of the Common Council was held last night. Present, President Dorrance and Aldermen Funnell, Greene, Mance, Reed and Sinsabaugh.

WANTS $100 DAMAGES.

Herbert Gedney, Esq., addressed council. He said he appeared with a grievance, but not on account of the electric road, nor with a printed argument. He represented his client, Alfred Allee, residing at 127 North street. During the recent storm the sewer being clogged, the water gushed from the man hole and, overflowing into his premises, covered the floor and rendered the house uninhabitable ever since. He placed his damages at $100.

Mr. Gedney said he did not wish to put the city to costs, but his client had a legal action.

WANT CROSSWALKS.

Mr. C. V. Puff asked that a crosswalk be constructed across West Main street to Hanford street and another across Hanford, midway between West Main street and Knapp avenue.

Mr. Puff also called the attention of the Council to the fact that his bill of $25, for services as commissioner in the matter of the extension of Ogden street, two years ago, had not been paid. He owed the city an assessment, but as his bill was the oldest he wanted it paid first.

A MODEST REQUEST.

A petition from property owners on James street was read and placed on file.

The petition recites that the street is in a bad condition and continually getting worse and as the properties on James street have already been assessed for the improvement it is asked that the Council cause the pavement to be relaid and that the ties of the electric road be laid in broken stone and concrete, as is being done on North street. The argument is made that the street would be in good condition, but for the depression over the water main, and concludes by asking that the expense be borne by the city.

PROPOSED MILLS AVENUE IMPROVEMENT

A petition of property owners on Mills avenue asked that the improvements ordered on that street be postponed until another year, as many felt they could not afford the expense at present.

Mr. O. Z Taylor, representing property owners on Mills avenue, asked that no action be taken. He said public improvements should be proportioned among the different sections of the city. This improvement had been asked for from time to time, and was needed; the Council had investigated and ordered it.

He further stated that the request to postpone was signed by many under the misapprehension that the cost would be about $30 to each fifty foot lot, but when informed since signing the petition that it would not be over $20 they desired to recall the petition.

The petition was placed on file.

AGAIN THE WAWAYANDA MATTER

The following communication was read and placed on file:

At a meeting of the Board of Health of the town of Wawayanda, Orange county, N. Y., held on the 20th day of June, 1894, the following orders and regulations were made and you are directed to comply therewith.

Whereas, The city of Middletown has constructed drains and sewers which empty into Monhagen Brook, which flows through the town of Wawayanda and by means of such drains and sewers deposit a large part of the sewerage of said city in the said brook where the same flows through said town,

And whereas, no means are used to disinfect said sewerage so as to prevent the noxious and unhealthy odors and gases, and said sewerage is deposited along the banks of said brook and the waters thereof are permitted to remain open, noxious, offensive and unhealthy odors are permitted to escape therefrom,

And it is resolved and ordered that the discharge of sewerage from the city of Middletown into Monhagen Creek as it is now done and permitted by said city and the use of said creek as a sewer as at present done is a nuisance, and injurious and detrimental to public health of the town of Wawayanda and its removal and suppression is necessary to the preservation of the health of the people living in said town, and the [illegible] city of Middletown is ordered to remove and suppress said nuisance and [illegible] discharging said sewerage into said creek, as now done and [illegible] and is hereby ordered forthwith to cease using said creek [illegible] drain or sewer and to [illegible] the air with noxious [illegible] odors and gases [illegible] said creek within [illegible]

[illegible] and ordered that every [illegible] violating [illegible] or regu[illegible] liable [illegible]

[illegible] the President of [illegible] hereby authorized, in the [illegible] to prosecute any per[illegible] corporations violating any of the foregoing rules or regulations, and is hereby authorized to sue for said penalties in the name of the Board, and commence and carry on in any of the courts of this State any action which he shall deem necessary to restrain violation or to enforce obedience to such orders and regulations.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this regulation be served upon the city of Middletown.

M. B AUSTIN,
Clerk of Said Board.

A RESIGNATION AND APPOINTMENT.

A communication from M. H. Van-Keuren, declining to serve as inspector of the brick paving, which had been received by the Clerk was read.

A communication from the Mayor appointing J. F. Terhune inspector of the North street brick paving was read and placed on file.

The report of the special tax election, the Fire Department election and the action of fire companies at the monthly meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Reed asked that sidewalk grade be established and gutter paved in front of the premises of C. S. Abrams and H. B. McCrea on the west side of Prospect avenue. On motion of Mr. Greene the work was ordered.

On motion of Mr. Mance it was ordered that the sums voted at the special tax election be entered upon the minutes as a part of the general tax levy.

COST OF HIGHLAND AVENUE SEWER.

On motion of Mr. Reed it was declared that the cost of the Highland avenue sewer is $2,149.21, and ordered that the same be assessed upon the property benefited, the area beyond which assessments shall not extend being from John street along Highland avenue to Sunset avenue.

WORK FOR THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

On motion of Mr. Reed the Clerk was directed to call the attention of the Board of Health to the condition of cellars on Sprague avenue between Washington and Fulton streets, and request that the Board take some action.

ANTICIPATING DAMAGE SUITS.

Mr. Reed stated that there were several dangerous places along the sidewalk on the east side of Linden avenue, between John street and Wickham avenue, and on the latter street to North, and moved that the Clerk give notice to owners of property to put their walks in a safe condition.

A CONDUIT ON LOW AVENUE.

On motion of Mr. Mance, a conduit in Draper Brook, on Low avenue, was ordered built under the supervision of the street superintendent.

On motion of Mr Sinsabaugh a naphtha lamp was ordered on Hanford street between West Main street and Knapp avenue.

CROSSWALKS ORDERED.

On motion of Mr. Sinsabaugh crosswalks were ordered as follows: Two across West Main, on Hanford street and one on Hanford street between West Main street and Knapp avenue.

On motion of Mr. Mance a crosswalk was ordered across Linden avenue on the south side of Wickham avenue.

The Lighting Committee reported favorably on the petition for arc lamps on Highland avenue and one at the end of North street.

On motion of Mr. Mance the engineer was directed to get bids for relaying the James street paving.

On motion of Mr. Reed it was ordered that the Street Railway Company raise the rails on North street, so that one and one-half inches of sand may be used under the brick paving.

On motion of Mr. Mance the President was authorized to sell the old lamps stored in the Orchard street school house.

The folowing bills were audited and at 12:15 Council adjourned.

Sewage In Germany.

The claim is made for Germany of having the most complete and successful system of sewage disposal of any country on the continent of Europe. In Berlin, where the features of this system are so perfectly represented, the drains from the houses receive both the rainwater, the refuse water from the kitchen, etc, and the contents of the water closets, conducting them to an arrangement of radial sewers, through which, by a natural fall, they pass to a dozen different pumping stations within the area of the town. From these the sewage, through the medium of combined force and suction pumps, proceeds through pipes of 3 feet or still greater diameter to the land which the corporation of Berlin possesses, the material thence making its final exit through a system of conduits so arranged that, before reaching them, it has parted with all its manurial power to the soil through which it is made to pass. The sewage water thus filtered reaches the river through the natural fall of the conduits in a comparatively purified state.—New York Sun

AN AMERICAN QUEEN

AND HER FOUR DAUGHTERS.

A Scene on the 3 O'clock Express Between Boston and Worcester, Mass.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was a pretty sight.

The passengers turned around in their seats to better note the something unusual.

A noble looking woman had entered the car, followed by four daughters, ageing from fifteen to twenty years.

The mother had one of those good and wholesome faces that one so rarely sees, but that men and women always admire. The daughters had the same healthy, wholesome look. They were well born, well cared for, and, without doubt, never suffered from any of the ills that curse many women

Mothers owe a duty to their daughters that in too many cases is neglected

Nature has provided a time for purification, and if the channels are obstructed the entire system is poisoned and misery comes

Mrs. Chas. Hines of Duncannon Pa, a woman of large experience in speaking of a mother's duty, says "Watch carefully your daughters' physical development

"Mothers should see that nature is assisted if necessary, to perform its office, and keep their daughters well informed as to matters concerning themselves

Irregularities from whatever cause, are sure indications of organic trouble With irregularities come disturbance of the stomach and kidneys.

Violent headaches often attack the victim pains shoot everywhere Extreme irritability follows quickly, and then utter despondency overwhelms the already overburdened life Unless the obstruction is removed at once, your daughter's whole future will be darkened

Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will accomplish the work speedily. It is the most effective remedy for irregular or suspended action known.

TO PREVENT BLINDNESS.

Laws to Punish Nurses For Ignorance and Carelessness In Neglecting Babies.

The State Medical society has done well in calling public attention to the fact that a large proportion of the blindness of the world is due to the disease called ophthalmia neonatorum, and that the well known treatment of this disease by a physician at a sufficiently early period in its course almost always results in preventing the blindness that would otherwise follow For this reason the society recommends the enactment of a law that has been already adopted in a number of states, to this effect:

Should one or both eyes of an infant become inflamed or swollen or reddened at any time within two weeks after its birth, it shall be the duty of the midwife or nurse having charge of such infant to report in writing within six hours to the health officer or some legally qualified physician of the city, town or district in which the parents of the infant reside the fact that such inflammation or swelling or redness of the eyes exists.

The proposed statute imposes a penalty for noncompliance. A specific penalty is necessary to make any statute effective, but the value of such an enactment would be mainly to draw attention to the necessity of timely action, since it is improbable that any parent or nurse would willfully neglect the precautions necessary to save a child from blindness if the nature of the case were understood For this reason the declaration of duty made in the paragraph quoted, if it could be universally circulated, might accomplish almost as much as if formally enacted by the legislature.

The common affection referred to, the "sore eyes" of newly born infants, is one that yields almost certainly to very simple treatment, promptly and skillfully applied, but that almost as certainly goes on to destructive inflammation if neglected, and one of the reasons why so many infants become blind is simply that those in charge of them do not understand, as any physician would, with what a serious matter they have to deal.

A legislative enactment would make it easier for health officers and others to bring the subject to general attention and especially to impress its importance upon those who are recognized as nurses or midwives The greatest number of cases of neglect, however, occur among the very poor, or in the remote country, where these things are left to volunteers and hygienic intelligence penetrates slowly, and we shall have to mingle some education with our legislation successfully to combat this dreadful scourge.—Philadelphia Times

Dr. Hand's Colic Cure in Hudson

HUDSON, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1893.

I bought a bottle of Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and found it so good for my baby, who was suffering from colic so that I could not get a moment's rest night or day. I now take pleasure in writing this so that every mother can know about it, for I hope that Dr. Hand's medicines will find their way into every family in the land.—Mrs. Oscar Snook, 48 Chapel street, Dr. Hand's Colic Cure is sold by all druggists for 25c.

For sick headache and all other conditions resulting from constipation, go by the book on Beecham's pills.
